

Is Great Music a Mystery to You?

SOMETIMES you see a reference in a newspaper or a magazine to some composer with whom you are wholly unfamiliar. You would like to know what kind of music that composer wrote—why it is that he has become so famous. You wish that someone in the household could play for you representative works of that composer.

The Pianola Piano IS THE "OPEN SESAME" TO ALL MUSIC.

It answers all your musical questions—it is a veritable encyclopedia of music. It follows wherever your desires and your tastes lead. Over 15,000 compositions await the enjoyment of the owner of a Pianola or Pianola Piano. No music is too simple or too great for the conquest of the Pianola.

CAUTION: There is only one Pianola. Do not make the mistake of supposing that you can go into any music store and buy the genuine Pianola and Pianola Piano.

The Pianola $250 to $350
The Pianola Piano $550 to $1,050

THE BERLINER.

Unpleasant Qualities on the Surface, Admirable Ones Below.

When I speak of the Berliner I do not mean the highest stratum of Berlin society, for the gentlemen and the gentlewomen are fairly constant types the world over. I mean the person whom the young clerk, fresh from the provinces, sets about imitating; the person whose origin is recognized the moment he enters any European cafe; the person with whom the stranger in Berlin has exclusive dealings.

The Berliner inclines to military standards in appearance and character, very much as official Berlin does. A smooth, determined chin, a dauntless glance, a right noble pose, a rapid stride, are all the mode.

One of the Berliner's most trying characteristics is his superiority. He has known the latest joke at least ten years. Do not try to tell him anything or to strike from him the least spark of enthusiasm, for news is no news to him; he was born wise. His eleven commandments is, "Let not thyself be bluffed," his life motto, "Nil admirari." In conversation he instinctively interrupts each fresh subject to deliver the last word upon it, and to argue with him is to insult him. There is something cutting in his speech. Perhaps Voltaire's influence on the great Frederick, the critic king, started this dreadful habit, which seems to grow with indulgence. It is a curious coincidence that the first performance of Goethe's "Faust" should have been given in Schloss Monbijou, the home of the Hohenzollern museum, for it would almost seem as though the Berliners had modeled their daily speech after the caustic, sneering, telling style of the engaging villain in that drama. They have little humor, but much wit of the barbed, barracks variety. And their target is the universe.

Because their unpleasant qualities are on the surface and their admirable ones are below the Berliners do a grave injustice to the rest of Germany. Many foreigners go first to the capital, are repelled by the people they first meet and hasten on to France or Italy with the idea that all Germans have corsive tongues and manners of a drill sergeant, whereas there is no wider difference in temperament between the people of Naples and those of Warsaw than between the citizens of Munich and the citizens of Berlin.—Robert Haven Schaffer in Century.

A Harder Job.

The tributes paid to the popularity of Mr. Hammond's son pleased the father, who was the oldest summer resident of Shrubville. They pleased him the more because they came from natives of the soil, whose good opinion could not be forced in any way.

"He's a real good boy, that boy o' yours," said Captain Hollis Towne, and Captain Lothrop James added his word of approval.

"I like the cut of his fib," he announced, with decision, "and I like his ways. He ain't too forthright, nor yet he ain't too stand-offish."

"Thing of it is, you and his ma haven't tried to have him 'brought up' same as most of the summer folks do with their children. He's just been 'raised' like we were, and that's why he gets on with everybody in this town, sir!"—Youth's Companion.

Why He Wanted a Receipt.

There was a lawyer in the Indian country in the old days who had none too good a reputation for honesty.

One of the aborigines employed him to do a little legal business. It was done to the client's satisfaction, the fee duly paid and a receipt for it duly demanded. "A receipt isn't necessary," the lawyer said. "But I want it," replied the red man. There was some argument, and the attorney finally demanded his reason.

"Since becoming a Christian I have been very careful in all my dealings that I may be ready for the judgment," answered the brave sententiously, "and when that day comes I don't want to take time to go to the bad place to get my receipt from you." The receipt was made out and promptly delivered.

No Nonsense.

Once in awhile there is a princess from whose lips plain words fall more readily than precious stones. One such, the wife of one of London's leading editors, figures in the "Personal Recollections" of H. Sutherland Edwards.

The editor had occasion to present a distinguished gentleman to his wife. He spoke as a husband, but he was not far wrong when he said, "Allow me to introduce you to the most charming woman in Europe."

"Don't be a fool, Sam!" said the lady as she extended her hand.

Reason Enthroned.

Because meals are so tasty they are consumed in great excess. This leads to stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. Revise your diet, let reason and not a pampered appetite control, then take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. Try it. For sale by W. F.
